

ROVING MARINES TO BE WITH LIONS TUESDAY

Secretary Daniels' trained "Roving Marines" will give a performance in the "Lions' Den" next Tuesday, when the detachment of uniformed entertainers will be guests of the Lions' club. The marines have named next Tuesday "Lions day" in honor of the club whose members will take charge of them all day. This was announced at a meeting of the governing board of the club in the Chamber of Commerce by Capt. L. E. Fagan, marine recruiting officer for Memphis. Capt. Fagan has been made an honorary member of the Lions.

The day's entertainment will open with a ride through the city by the marines in automobiles given for the occasion by the Lions. In each car will be a member of the club to point out sights of interest to his guests. After the ride there will be luncheon at the Gayoso with the marines as guests. The marines will show the Lions what they can do in the line of entertaining. The marine jazz band will play their double quartet with soloists will solo, and Johnny Madden, who used to be a cowpuncher before he became a marine, will throw a lariat and perhaps a few other things.

W. L. Bucher, of the Lions, who is superintendent of the Palmerton community, has offered the marines the use of a shower and other facilities of the Union station while their special train is sidetracked there.

KEMPER MAKES ADDRESS.

Rev. George W. Kemper, pastor of McLemore Avenue Christian church, made an address Wednesday before the annual body of the Tennessee university, taking as his subject "A Review of World Conditions." The address was one of a series being given by prominent speakers each week at the university.

Moving Pictures.

Strand.

Norma Talmadge has the chance of her life for fine comedy portrayal in the role she plays in "She Loves and Lies" at the Strand this week. In fact, it is rather a triple role, as Miss Talmadge appears as Marie Callender, known on the stage as Marie Max, an impersonator, and June Dayne, a Greenwich village girl. The two roles outside of her own personality are assumed so that she can marry the man of her choice, obtain a large fortune and replenish the finances of the young man she loves.

Majestic.

"Sinners," the photoplay featuring Alice Brady, being shown now at the Majestic theater, is well named, although it includes an immoral man who poses as a virtuous and a moral woman who poses as an immoral. Most of the rest of the cast are persons, not good and bad, who profess to be nothing more or less than they really are. The picture very closely follows the stage play of the same name which was written for Miss Brady by Owen Davis.

Princess.

A motion picture that ranks with the most beautiful and extravagantly screened spectacles of all times was shown at the Princess theater last evening, where "Everywoman" opened a four days' run. No expenditure of artistic effort or money has been spared in making the film version of this famous allegorical play. Violet Hemlin, the beautiful screen and stage actress, is Everywoman.

Loew's Lyceum.

Real variety is found on the bill which opens at Loew's Lyceum Thursday for the last half of the week. There is everything in the way of vaudeville attractions. "Hearts and Flowers," a musical comedy bit with songs, dances, fun and good-looking girls, is the headliner. Bobby Stone heads a good company in this, reports say.

Three marvelous equilibrista, quick as a flash in their demonstrations of jiu jitsu, are the Nakas Japs. These novelty entertainers have scored on recent appearances in other Southern cities. The Two Ladellas have an interesting dialogue. Mansfield and Riddle offer new material from song alley and show a few advanced dance steps. The Templetons will be seen in a surprise.

In "The Tattlers," a woman betrayed exacts the penalty from her betrayers and herself pays. This is a drama of the newly rich in which Madeleine Travers is the star.

Orpheum.

It would be a hard task for one to find a quintet of entertainers as capable, talented and amusing as the five who comprise the Pompano company of the "Century Revue" at the Orpheum the last half. They are thorough musicians, playing many different instruments. Their singing is on par with their instrumental abilities, and their chatter is said to be excellent.

Lowe, Evans and Stella are offering a triangle of entertainment formed by songs, dances and costumes and the points are held in place by a musical comedy idea. Billy Rogers is a laughologist.

Sully Rogers and Sully are trampoline and bar experts. They execute astoundingly difficult feats on the trampoline. Alex Melford and company have a European novelty.

The feature picture will be J. Warren Kerrigan in "Thirty Thousand."

THREE AUTOS AND STREET CAR DAMAGED IN SMASH

Three automobiles were damaged and a street car "bruised" in a four-cornered collision at Court avenue and Front street late Wednesday. Mrs. Leona Gotten, of Bartlett, said to have been driving one of the cars, which was the worst damaged, narrowly escaped serious injury.

Mrs. Gotten attempted to back out from the curb, according to Traffic Officer J. G. Satchfield, and her car was struck by the Jackson avenue street car No. 205. Mrs. Gotten's car was thrown against the curb, striking an Allen car belonging to Mrs. J. O. Taylor, which in turn was thrown against the car belonging to Mrs. J. G. Nixon, 167 South McLean. No arrests were made.

THE SOLUTION

Chicken etiquette has been a puzzling problem to many people at many times.

Queen Victoria solved it for Englishmen by announcing that in eating chicken it was permissible to take the bone in the left hand.

The CHILDS restaurants have solved it for thousands of Americans by removing the bone and serving the chicken on slices of buttered toast.

Hot chicken sandwich with vegetables—a popular luncheon specialty at CHILDS.
